TURNBULL FOR CONGRESS

A Strange Negro With Many Aliases Picked Up on Charge of Robbing Residence.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, Va., January 15.—Mayor Jones has received a letter from C. Fred Thompson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce in Tampa, Fla., enclosing a copy of the proclamation of Governor Broward, of that State, calling a convention to be held in Tampa, February 15th, for the consideration of the immigration question in all details and relations, and requesting the Mayor to bring the subject to the attention of all commercial organizations in this city for the purpose of having delegates to the convention appointed.

The proclamation calls upon the Governors of all States in the South to attend, and to appoint ten delegates each from their respective States.

Feeling the Popular Pulse.
Mr. Robert Turnbull, a well-known lawyer of Lawrence, Va., has written to many friends and acquaintances in this city and throughout the Fourth District announcing that he is considering the subject of becoming a candidate for Congress before the primary, and wishes to ascertain the sentiment of the people of the district as to his proposed candidacy.

A strange negro, who gives his name as John Williams, with the following array of aliases: Charles Williams, Tom Hembrook and John Smith, was arrested by Detective Banes this morning just as he was leaving on an electric car for Richmond, and was subsequently identified as the man who entered a residence on West High Street last night and stole a suit of clothes. The identification was made by the resident of the house and a pawnbroker to whom the thief carried the clothes.

Routen conducting the services.

RESUMED CASH PAYMENTS.

Lynchburg Banks Resume Serp and Money Comes Out of Hoarding.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LYNCHBURG, Va., January 15.—Since the local banks have resumed business strictly on a currency basis and the clearing-house scrip is being retired, a large amount of money has come out of hoarding, and the deposits in all of them have been materially increased. All the banks are feeling the effects of the renewed confidence of persons who felt a bit shaky without reason therefor when the financial trouble began in New York three months ago.

The scrip is being rapidly retired, and since Monday none of it has been paid out over the counters. Some of the banks have already retired their portion of the issue of November 15th, and the others are ready to do so as soon as it is presented for payment.

A well-known financier declared this afternoon that as far as Lynchburg is concerned, there is no doubt but that there is a better feeling in the city today than there has been since the trouble began, and those who understand the situation are taking an optimistic view in the belief that conditions will soon be normal.

It was learned from a good source today that the First National Bank will take steps shortly for the erection of its new banking house as soon as the building season opens. Indeed, this is now practically assured.

Like soap to the skin are Cascarets to the bowels. Use them like soap—in small doses and regularly. It is nice to keep clean inside.

It is a great deal more necessary to keep clean on the inside than on the outside.

Cascarets are more important than soap. The pores of the skin may become clogged with dirt, but they don't absorb the impurities.

The pores of the bowels do.

There are myriads of pores in the bowels, the duty of which is to absorb the nutriment from food.

That's how we get our nourishment.

But if the bowels are sluggish the food is delayed. It decays and forms gases and poisons. Then those pores of the bowels suck poison into the blood.

That's how we get our ills.

We urge the habit of cleanliness.

Don't wait till you need a physic. That leaves too much of the time when you are only half well.

Keep yourself at your best.

The right way is to carry a box of Cascarets with you. It fits the pocket or purse. Take one just as soon as you know that you need it. It is gentle and sure.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. Be sure you get the genuine, with CCC on every tablet. The price is 50c, 25c and

SERGEANT MCBRIDE'S REQUEST.

Asks For a Private Interview With the Police Justice.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, January 15.—The preliminary hearing of H. C. McBride, former police sergeant on the charge of bigamy, scheduled for to-day in the Police Court, was continued, owing to the illness of Chief of Police Boush, who is the prosecutor in the case. McBride's bail was fixed at $1,000, and was promptly furnished.

Following the postponement of the case Mr. McBride asked Justice Simmons for a private interview, but it had declined, the court replying: "I had learned to like you, but I feel sorry for you, but I could do nothing for you, even were you my brother."

In the past Sergeant McBride had often been a witness or prosecutor in the court.

McBride declined to make any statement, further than to remark to a friend that the people of Norfolk were judging him too harshly. The preliminary hearing is scheduled for Saturday. Chief Boush is suffering from a severe attack of grip.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., January 15.—Professor J. M. Harris, of near Lignum, Culpeper county, father of Mrs. J. B. The sheep gathered on the south side of a hill for shelter from the wind, and the river rose to such a height that it hit and caught the sheep. ## BELLES OF NORFOLK FOR CHARITY

Unique Entertainment at the Academy for Benefit of Hospital.

HOPE FOR LEO THURMAN

President Anderson Wants a Thousand Members for Board of Trade.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, January 15.—Social Norfolk this week is giving all of its attention on and time to the Spallartierfest, an amateur presentation of the operatic, spectacular class, at the Academy of Music, for the benefit of the Protestant Hospital. Matinees are given, in which the children of the city participate as the actors, and the evening performances are given by the younger social set of the city. All of the performances are crowded, and a large sum is being realized for the treasury of the charity.

The Academy has been transformed into a veritable bower of beauty, all available space in the promenade and corners being devoted to booths, at which confections, flowers and scores of other things are sold to purchasers. The society belles of the city are the salesladies, and it is a lucky man who can get away from these charmers without parting with some of his pocket change.

The nightly scenes are brilliant social events. Full dress is the rule, and during the performance there are long intermissions, during which the audience freely circulates about the theatre, and the scene resembles a great reception. It is admitted to be one of the most successful charity benefits ever given in the city.

Three hundred young men, young ladies and girls and boys participate in the daily performances, and the high character of the entertainment offered is drawing the largest attendance. The various songs, extempores, choruses and dances are well rendered. The young people are being complimented. The patronesses of the benefit are as follows: Messrs. James H. Taylor, Charles L. J. Hubard, Bartlett Myers, D. E. Levy, Jacob Wells, J. R. Speight, Robert Johnson, L. W. T. Waller, A. B. Willets, James J. Leigh, John Vaughan, D. S. Burwell, N. J. Adams, Charles Hargreaves, John East, J. P. Patton, Adam Trendwell, James Payne, Miss Virginia Gatewood, Messdames J. G. Neugebauer, Cornelius D. Witt, Caldwell Hardy, Nathaniel Beaman, T. J. Nottingham, William Lauder, B. R. Glennan, Frank McClellan, H. K. Hardy, George Roper, W. H. Robinson, L. P. Roberts, H. L. Lowenberg, W. H. Venable, George Roper, W. W. Old, George Arps, W. W. Robertson, J. B. Jenkins, H. Crockett, S. T. Dickinson, C. W. Fenwick, W. T. H. M. Barnett, Frank H. Smith, H. K. Hardy, J. B. Roberts, C. F. Foshburg, Miss Louie Taylor, Messdames W. A. Thom, M. K. King, S. D. Hope, M. L. Euse, C. L. Fine, A. Brooke, Gordon Decey, R. D. Walnwright, Fred E. Carter.

Thurman's Doom.
James G. Martin, attorney for Leo C. Thurman, convicted of murder in the first degree, and sentenced to pay the debt in penalty, has practically given up hope of a new trial, following the reception given his appeal by the State Supreme Court. The fact that the court declined to hear arguments of the State in the case, Mr. Martin explains, can be interpreted only in one way, and that is, that the case could set no ground for a writ of error.

President W. T. Anderson, of the Board of Trade, elected last night for his third term, after a heated campaign, announced to-day that his policy was coming to the year end and he was to incur no membership of the organization to 1,000 business men, and to make it an even more potent factor in the upbuilding of Norfolk and Tidewater Virginia.

Berkley's New School Building.

Norfolk is at present averaging $50,000 per annum in new school buildings, and has plans on foot for the erection of a $200,000 high school in the near future.

Muddy Road in Spotsylvania Saves Boy

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SPOTSYLVANIA, Va., January 15.—A colored boy, son of Edgar Smith, and about sixteen years of age, met with a singular accident yesterday. He was riding to town and going at a rapid pace, when the horse on which he was seated fell and broke its neck. The boy was caught under the horse and was unable to extricate himself. When taken from his unhappy situation, he was found to be uninjured, owing to the fact that the mud into which he fell was deep and soft. So much for "good roads" of Spotsylvania.
